The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

1. Claims 158-183 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Levine (US 6,792,082).
2. In regards to claims 158, 172, 173, and 175, Levine discloses a method for providing directory assistance to a caller comprising: searching by a directory assistance provider (Personal Assistant (PA); See col. 5 lines 11-13 and col. 6 lines 1-7) a destination telephone number associated with a desired party; initiating a telephone call between the caller and the desired party based on the destination telephone number (See col. 6 lines 1-12); determining if a predefined condition (i.e., busy line or ring-no-answer) relating to the status of the telephone call occurs (See col. 6 lines 23-27); if the predefined condition occurs, obtaining an identifier (i.e., choice of voice message, page, or text message) of a messaging device (i.e. voice mail system, pager, email or SMS) associated with the desired party for contacting the desired party, the identifier being different from the destination telephone number; sending a message to the messaging device associated with the desired party based on the identifier; and allowing the caller to obtain the identifier of the messaging device from a directory assistance provider (See col. 6-7 lines 64-2 and col. 7 lines 61-65).

3. In regards to claim 159, Levine discloses the method, wherein the message comprises a voice message (col. 7 lines 61-65).

4. In regards to claims 160 and 176, Levine discloses the method, wherein the message comprises a text message (col. 7 lines 61-65).

5. In regards to claim 161, Levine discloses the method, wherein the text message comprises a custom text message (col. 8 lines 21-26).

6. In regards to claim 162, Levine discloses the method, wherein the custom text message is dictated by the caller to a directory assistance provider (col. 8 lines 25-28).

7. In regards to claims 163, 170, 180, and 181, Levine discloses the method, wherein the message comprises a page (col. 7 lines 61-65).

8. In regards to claims 164, 165, and 166, Levine discloses the method, wherein the predefined condition comprises a non-answering desired party condition (col. 6 lines 23-27).

9. In regards to claim 167, Levine discloses the method, wherein an option to have the message sent is offered to the caller after an occurrence of the non-answering desired party condition (col. 6 lines 23-27).

10. In regards to claims 168 and 174, Levine discloses the method, wherein the message is sent to the desired party after an occurrence of the predefined condition when it is determined that the desired party has the messaging device capable of accepting the message (col. 6 lines 23-27 and col. 7 lines 61-65).

11. In regards to claim 169, Levine discloses the method, wherein the predefined condition comprises call termination (col. 6 lines 23-29 and col. 6 lines 37-45).

12. In regards to claims 171 and 182, Levine discloses the method, wherein the messaging device comprises a personal communications service (PCS) device (col. 5 lines 17-21).

15. In regards to claim 183, Levine discloses the method, wherein the device comprises a wireless telephone (col. 5 lines 4-10).

Response to Arguments

16. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 158-183 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

17. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Gibilisco et al (US 6,104,786) teach a method for completing a telephone call originating from a calling party and received by a called party.

18. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

19. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
